Final: Packers 44, Vikings 31 The score does not indicate how much the Green Bay Packers dominated the Minnesota Vikings. Two late touchdowns for the Vikings after only six plays in the third quarter came too late. Aaron Rodgers completed 24 of 29 passes for 285 yards and two touchdowns, while the Packers' offense scored on seven of eight drives in the game. Both of Rodgers' touchdowns went to Jordy Nelson, who finished with seven catches for 123 yards. The Packers also had fast touchdowns from Eddie Lacy and James Starks. Lacy finished with 94 yards on 29 carries with a one-yard touchdown, and Starks had a 25-yard touchdown. He finished with 57 yards on seven carries. Micah Hyde added a 93-yard punt for a touchdown in the second quarter that helped the Packers to a 24-17 halftime lead. The only drive the Packers didn't score was the last of the game, when Rodgers knelt down to end the massacre. The Packers converted 13 of 18 third downs, and two of two on fourth downs as they dominated the possession time 40:54 to 19:06. The Vikings took an early lead when Cordarrelle Patterson opened the game with a 109-yard return for a touchdown. It was the second this season for the rookie. Adrian Peterson looked good in the first half, but once the Packers pulled away, the Vikings pulled him out of the game. He finished with 60 yards on 13 carries and a touchdown. Toby Gerhart and Christian Ponder rushed for touchdowns in the fourth quarter on 13-yard, 19-yard runs. It was the only transport for Gerhart in Peterson's relief. If Ponder had any hope of regaining the initial work they sailed as bad as some of his passes. He completed 14 of 21 passes for 145 yards. On the positive note, he didn't make an interception. The loss leaves the Vikings at 1-6, while the win keeps Green Bay in first place in the NFC North at 5-2. The Packers will host the Bears next week in another divisional showdown and the Vikings will travel to Dallas to play against the Cowboys. U.S. District Judge Rodolfo A. The lack of home advantage without fans hurts. The lack of Danielle Hunter hurts even more. The Vikings are talented and have a good coach, but there are many unknowns – most notably their young group of cornerbackgoing against Aaron Rodgers. I'm also very concerned about how the inside offensive line will hold. Garrett Bradbury struggled against Kenny Clark and the Packers last year, and the Vikings somehow managed to get worse at guard this offseason. Live Updates:Final: Packers 43, Vikings 344th quarterPackers 36, Vikings 1810:02 This is the fourth touchdown of the day for Rodgers. He finds Lazard. That must be the best. Packers 29, Vikings 1813:53 Cousins takes a shot and finds Adam Thielen at the end zone for a 37-yard touchdown. Dalvin Cook snags on two-point conversion. This one's not over, but the Vikings need to stop. Packers 29, Vikings 10Third quarter0:09 Another touchdown to Davante Adams and this is all but 0.7:25 The Vikings are rescued by a fall from Valdes-Scantling on third down and will get the ball back. I have to have some offense here. Halftime: Packers 22, Vikings 10Second quarter0:00 A nice run from Alexander Mattison and a pass to Kyle Rudolph (plus a penalty gets the Vikings on the field before halftime. Packers 22, Vikings 70:14 The Packers capitalize on a 45-yard touchdown from Rodgers to Marquez Marquez Rookie Cameron Dantzier was burned in the coverage.0:25 Two plays later, Cousins is intercepted by Jaire Alexander and the Packers could try to increase their lead before halftime. Kenny Clark came limping after the play. Packers 15, Vikings 70:39 It's vintage Aaron Rodgers. He rolls to the right and finds Davante Adams on the sideline of the end zone for a 24-yard touchdown. Adams passes more than 100 yards in the first half.2:00 After a 3-and-out Vikings, the Packers are once again riding a slow drive. The Vikings defense will try to keep them out of the end zone before the half. Packers 8, Vikings 78:08 The Vikings fill the Packers in the red zone again. The pressure of Ifeadi Odenigbo forces Aaron Rodgers to throw the ball away on third down and they are forced to settle for another field goal. That's three trips to the red zone to Green Bay with only six points to show. They re-take the lead, though. Vikings 7, Packers 511:39 I think that's why you go for it in 4th and goal from the 1. The Packers just shaded Kirk Cousins in the end zone on a cornerback blitz from Jaire Alexander and is a safety.12:19 The Vikings' defense in the red zone has been much better than their defense in the rest of the field. They fill the Packers at the goal line and force an incomplete fourth down to retrieve the ball. First quarter Vikings 7, Packers 33:24 That was easy for the Vikings! They marched through the field for a touchdown on their first offensive possession of the series. Two catches for 32 yards for Adam Thielen to get the drive, and then a lot of running the ball. Dalvin Cook soca short yard for his first TD of the year. Packers 3, Vikings 7:27 The Packers entered first on the scoreboard. They took the kickoff and moved the ball mechanically down, although they were aided by some errors from the Vikings defense. Ifeadi Odenigbo committed a first-down penalty to the Packers, and Cameron Dantzier and Eric Wilson missed tackles in the open field. The defense hardens in the red zone and holds the Packers to a field goal. Goal.
